

PORTLAND MARKETS

Wholesale Price List as Reported Daily.

PORTLAND, August 31.—Dressed meats of all kinds in demand at good values.

Peach market firm. Some fancy Wagners displayed by Levy & Spiegler this morning were especially fine. Came from Phoenix, Oregon. Charles Levy of the firm says they come midway between the early Crawford and the late ones, and they therefore find a demand of their own. Stocks are frostings.

Grape trade is rather mixed, owing to the mixture of quality. Some selling at less than express.

DA COWARD DAGO MAN.

I never see Estaban
Dat ees so scare', so coward man,
Like Malatesta, from Milan.
You bat my life, hees—w'at you call—
Hees "cheeken heart" eet ees so small
You no can find da theeng at all
Eet? Don't you read een paper how
Somb'ody stab heem seen da row
Dat happen laeta Frida' night?
Eet? No, he ees alive all right;
But now w'en he ees gattin' wai,
An' all poleese ees ask heem tal
Who ees da man dat cut heem so,
He Jus' say, "I don'ta know."
Now, w'at you theenk sooh coward man
Like Malatesta from Milan?
I tal you w'at, eet mak' me seek—
Eet? Sure he know who do da treck!
But he ees scare' for tal, my frand,
For dat he fear da Blacks Hand.
Eet? W'at? Of course een true. I know,
Or else I would no tal you so.
Yes, I am sure! Baycause I see
Dat bada man from Seecly.
Dat leave een jail moe' all hees life,
Giuseppe Gaidi, pull hees knife.
An' den, so lika cat, so queeck.
He mak' da jumpa-so'-an' steek
Poor Malatesta dees way!
Den—preto! He ees gon' an'—eh?
Why I don't tal dem w'at I see?
You see, I Jus' was gona say
So queeck da bada man run away—
An', too, my eyes ees poor at night—
You see, ees mebbe so I might
Be wrong 'bout Gaidi. Sooh meestak'
Ees possible, you know, to mak'
Baywides, w'at for I care? You see,
Eet ees no beeaness for me.
Da man dat's cut he ees da best
To tal poleese for mak' arrest.
But Malatesta, from Milan,
He ees coward dago man;
Hees cheeken heart eet ees so small
You no can find da theeng at all—

Steamer Lurline Goes Around at Maygers.

STRIKES SAND BARAT LANDING

City of Panama Arrives in From San Francisco and the Berlin for Nushagak Alaska—Redondo in From Seattle—Other Notes From the Waterfront.

On the down trip yesterday the steamer Lurline went aground in an attempting landing at Maygers. The vessel slid high on the sand bar which has long been a menace to vessels landing at this point on the Columbia River. In attempting to make the landing through the narrow channel the Lurline was carried out of her course slightly by both wind and current with the result that she combed up on the soft sand, doing no damage but knocking her trip out until high tide last night, which occurred at Maygers about six o'clock. She arrived at 6 p. m.

At Ranier Captain Larkins had a telegram sent to the office of the company here stating that he would bring the boat in at 8 o'clock. But this was before he had got down to Maygers. The channel there was made all the more treacherous by reason of the tide being out and consequently Captain Larkins' schedule was interfered with.

Agent Blessing, of the Vancouver Transportation Company has posted a notice that the office will be closed on Monday, Labor Day, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4 p. m.

The steamer City of Panama, Captain Nelson, arrived in yesterday morning from San Francisco en route for Portland. She brought up a full passenger list and a good cargo.

The steamer Redondo arrived in yesterday morning from Seattle and tied up at the Sanborn dock to discharge coal. She is bound for Portland with a mixed cargo.

The tug Dauntless arrived in yesterday from San Francisco and will take out one of the Benson log raft for San Diego.

The Berlin, Captain Fry, entered yesterday from Nushagak, Alaska, bound for Portland with the season's salmon pack for the Alaska-Portland Packing Co.

The schooner King Cyrus came down the river yesterday with a deck load of lumber and left out for California last night.

The T. J. Potter, Captain Sullivan, brought down a good crowd of people yesterday from Portland who will spend today at the various resorts at North Beach.

The Armeria, Captain Gregory, dropped down yesterday from the Buoy Depot and tied up at her dock. The vessel is in fine shape preparatory to doing exhibition stunts during the Regatta.

From the latest reports from Commander P. J. Werlich, lighthouse inspector, the following is taken.

The following affects the list of lights, buoys and daymarks, Pacific Coast, 1907:

Coos Bay entrance, page 43.—Coos Bay Outer Buoy, a PS 1st-class can, reported missing August 24, will be replaced as soon as practicable.

Columbia River Entrance, page 54.—South Channel Buoy, a PS 1st-class can, marked "S. C." in black, will be replaced, about October 1, 1907, by a bell buoy, without other change.

Her Recommendation.
A girl working as a servant told the housewife, "I'm going away, mom."
Said the woman indignantly: "Suppose some one writes me for a recommendation, what shall I tell them?"
Said the girl: "Tell them, mom, I stood it with you for a week. That recommend is good enough for me."

A Reminder.

Actor (as the violent storm dashes the fruit from the trees)—One can almost imagine that he is on the stage.—Meggendorfer Blatter.

Punishment.
Head Inquisitor—You were the chauffeur, I believe, who was continually letting vile smoke come out of the rear of your machine.

Late Arrival—Yes, sir.
"Well, go and swallow a cup of boiling cylinder oil every ten minutes until I can think of some punishment to fit your case."—New York Life.

LID FOR EVERETT.

Mayor Jones Will Stand by His Decision Despite Petition.

EVERETT, August 31.—Mayor Jones refuses to withdraw his movement against closing saloons on Sunday. The executive stated this morning that even though a petition signed by a majority of business men of the city were laid before him he would not reverse his decision. He says he has cast the die for a clean Sabbath and intends adhering to his original action, stating that if the town is to be reopened Sunday it must be as a result of the next election, to occur within about 60 days.

"I believe the entire county will be closed within two weeks," stated Mayor Jones, "and I believe the movement will be good. The prospect of a lengthy petition coming before me asking for a reopening of saloons on Sunday would be unavailing. If any considerable number of business men desire the town opened let them make it an issue in the next city campaign, which will come to pass in about 60 days. If I were to run again for office I would undertake the task on the closed town issue, running in opposition to an opponent sailing under an open town policy. It could then be seen whether the voters are satisfied with present arrangements and the mayor would assume office on such grounds and would not be held up to majority criticism thereafter."

A great advance is also noticed this year in the standing of the high schools throughout the state. Scarcely a high school from Roseburg to Pendleton but that will send from one to a dozen students to the university. The unsettled status of the normals will also contribute to the attendance at Oregon.

Accommodations for the increase has been seen to, and a good sized women's dormitory has just been completed. The new library, which has been under construction since about January 1, has been completed and accepted. The time for moving in has not been definitely set.

The campus this year will be a great improvement over the past. Captain Briggs has kept a small force steadily at work on the grounds all summer and is getting them in splendid condition, in appearance very much like the Lewis & Clark Fair Grounds.

JAPANESE FINDS MONEY.

LOS ANGELES, August 31.—For three years rumors of buried or hidden gold at the elegant Westlake home of the eccentric and wealthy Merrill A. Weir have attracted treasure hunters and scores have dug all over the grounds, but none found anything. Today Mishiki Moko-gawa, a Japanese housecleaner employed by a new tenant in the mansion, picked up $1000 in gold, silver and greenbacks, which he discovered under a pile of rubbish in the basement. The money was carefully wrapped in a time-yellowed piece of silk.

Pending final disposition of the money, over which a legal fight is in sight, it was banked, but with the consent of Judge Wilbur $100 was at once paid the Japanese as a reward for his honesty.

JAPS TREATED WELL.

Noted Man From Japan Tells Californians he is Satisfied with Treatment.

WATSONVILLE, Cal., August 31.—At a banquet given in his honor by local Japanese business men, Ishii, minister of commerce and immigration in the imperial Japanese cabinet, expressed himself as more than pleased with the condition of his countrymen as he found it in California. He said that during the past 10 days he has been making a flying trip through the southern part of the states, but that only a flying trip was necessary to discover the contentment of his compatriots in their new homes, and that they were treated with all consideration that was due them not only by officials, but by citizens with whom they had come in contact.

In reference to the Japanese troubles in San Francisco, he said he fully realized that while there had been some personal attacks by the rough element, these were individual cases for which the community at large was not responsible.

WORK STOPPED ON CAR LINE.

VANCOUVER, Wash., August 31.—Work stopped at noon on street railway construction in Vancouver, when the workmen were notified that no funds were immediately available to pay them. The franchisees are controlled by W. H. Moore, president of the Oregon Trust & Savings Bank, which recently closed in Portland. Mr. Moore obtained the last franchise under his own name, but the enterprise was being conducted ostensibly by the Washington Railway & Power Company.

About $1000 is owing for material and labor. Bills for labor, however, were paid up to the end of last week. The workmen knew at that time that operations might be discontinued, but decided to go on another week and take their chances.

Rails have been laid down most of Main street in the business section, and the street is badly torn up. It is not known when it will be put in shape.
